

I started my rotation in Cardiothoracic Surgery in Operating Room. I mainly observed set-ups of preparation of patients coming for cardiac surgery. I observed few CABG cases, few congenital cases and a couple of valve cases. I gained experience on the pre-operation of patients, anesthesia through out the operation. I was also oriented to the drugs used in keeping the patients asleep I gained also knowledge about cardio-pulmonary bypass and extra corporal circulation. I also attended a case on pulmonary cancer resection; I spent sometimes in CSU watching over patients for cardiac surgery.

It was great experience for me to be here and get a real hands on knowledge.

Thank you,

Farah Ayash
University of Damascus
August 16 – 31, 2006
Rotated in the Division of Cardiothoracic Surgery

